

Global Energy Security Forum

Advancing Energy Security through Efficiency, Diversification, and Sustainability

Join us on April 22, 2010 for a 40th Anniversary Earth Day Celebration Presentation

"Creating a Global Green Economy"

Every year approximately one billion people around the world participate in Earth Day activities. Be one of them and join us to learn more about what the private sector is doing to promote cleaner energy. Our featured speakers will be:

Dr. Paul Bryan

Biofuels VP at Chevron Energy Technology Company where he manages the biofuels technology R&D program and biofuels technology support for Chevron. Dr. Bryan received his Ph.D. in Chemical Engineering from UC Berkeley and spent ten years in academia teaching at the Colorado School of Mines and MIT. He has also done post-doctoral work at the Ecole des Mines, Paris.

Mr. Jeremy Susac

Former Director of Florida Governor Crist's Energy Office, where he played the key role in establishing energy and biofuels policy for Florida. Mr. Susac is currently President of the Florida Biofuels Association and a private consultant specializing on energy.

Dr. George Philippidis

and Dr. Edward Glab,
Co-Directors of SIPA's Global Energy Security Forum will co-chair the panel and act as discussants.

The event is FREE but RSVP is required.
